The Council's Constitution

Birmingham City Council has agreed a Constitution which governs how the Council operates, how decisions are made, and the procedures which are followed to ensure efficiency, transparency and accountability to local people. Some of these processes are required by the law, while others are a matter for the Council to choose.

The Council will exercise all its powers and duties in accordance with the law and this Constitution. This Constitution complies with the requirements of the Local Government Act 2000, related regulations and government guidance on constitutional matters.

- (iv) Enable decisions to be taken in an effective and efficient manner having regard to the law, appropriate policies, procedures and ethical standards;

These Committees will, normally, meet in public to discuss and make recommendations on the development of policies and on improving service performance, and to hold the Executive to account for their actions. They may recommend that the Cabinet reconsiders the decision. They also support the work of the Cabinet and the Council as a whole through contribution to policy development. They may submit reports and recommendations which advise the Cabinet and the Council as a whole on its policies, budget and service delivery.

These Committees will, normally, meet in public to discuss and make recommendations on the development of policies and on improving service performance, and to hold the Executive to account for their actions.

Other specialist committees are appointed by the Council from time to time. These Committees operate in a non-executive manner and are also cross-party and independent of the Executive.

Regulatory and Non-Executive Committees are not part of the Executive functions and neither are they part of the Scrutiny arrangements.
